Management Policy

Okasan Securities Group Inc. and Consolidated Subsidiaries

1. Basic management policy for the Company

Okasan Securities Group Inc. manages a corporate group composed of a holding company and its Japanese and overseas consolidated subsidiaries. The Group strives to strengthen its enterprise value in a sustained manner through the provision of investment services centered on the securities business and asset management.

2. Basic policy on the distribution of profits and dividends

The Group sees shareholder returns as an important gauge of management success and intend to distribute payouts in consideration of the earnings trends in tandem with the sustainability of stable dividends.

3. Important management indicator

It is important to generate stable profits irrespective of the market conditions. In keeping with this principle, the Group maintains a stable, consolidated return on equity (ROE) of 10% as a long-term business objective.

4. Management strategies, etc.

The Okasan Securities Group will mark the centennial of its founding in April 2023. With this milestone in mind, the Group has formulated a grand design toward establishing a structure that will ensure continuing growth while winning and retaining the trust of its customers beyond the centennial. The “BEYOND 2020” medium-term management plan addresses the first three-year period of this vision, the period from April 2017 through March 2020. During this time, the Group will invest strategically to give the Group the strength needed to achieve these objectives.

The fiscal year under review is the second of the medium-term management plan. During this fiscal year, in addition to establishing Okasan Capital Partners and launching investments in startups, the Group enhanced alliances with external companies, expanding its exchange-traded margin transaction agencies and strengthening alliances with overseas securities firms for investment information, such as international market and corporate information, at each securities subsidiary. The Group also moved forward with the utilization of FinTech in providing customers with products and services, including the launch of AI-driven provision of investment information and advising. The Group will continue to enhance its strengths, thereby increasing corporate value.

BEYOND 2020: The new medium-term management plan

1. Period covered

The three-year period from April 2017 through March 2020

2. Management philosophy

“Customer-First”

3. Social mission:

[Statements to stakeholders]

(1) Customers

We seek to be a group of investment advising professionals focusing on advancing the best interests of our customers.

(2) Employees

We seek to be a company in which employees can take even greater pride to make the work of our employees as rewarding as possible.

(3) Shareholders

We strive to increase corporate value to meet the expectations of our shareholders.

4. Qualitative targets:

[Six measures to strengthen the Group]

- (1) Customer-First management
- (2) Cooperation within the Group
- (3) Partnerships outside the Group
- (4) Brand strategy
- (5) Human resources, rewarding work
- (6) FinTech

[Quantitative target]

ROE of 10%: While growing the Group, we plan to achieve a ROE of 10% as a stable, long-term target.

5. Marking the centennial of the Group's founding

Leading up to the Group's centennial, our goal, to be achieved at the earliest possible date, is to achieve the targets of one million accounts and ten trillion yen in assets managed across the entire Group.

5. Business conditions and challenges the Company should address

A bird's eye view of the business environment in which the Group operates suggests major changes are underway in various spheres, including a new cold war between the United States and China, involving the struggle for technological hegemony, and a fourth industrial revolution led by advances in artificial intelligence (AI). Even the business models of Google, Apple, Facebook, and Amazon, companies that have driven the economy in recent years, are being reconsidered.

Although a look at financial assets held by individuals in Japan shows a gradual trend toward investments, cash and deposits still continue to account for the majority of personal financial assets. Among seniors, the Japan and the US differ by a factor of three to four in average financial assets held per household. In the US, equities and investment trusts account for high proportions of personal financial assets; the asset-building gap between the US and Japan remains considerable. However, this long-standing pattern has begun to shift. With the approach of an era in which it may become commonplace to live to the age of 100, people have begun to recognize the importance of extending asset lifespans, prompting systemic preparations through NISA, iDeCo, and other instruments. We expect a growth of investments in risk assets as well as increased financial assets and the broadening of the investor base. The securities business in Japan presents very high growth potential. We believe we have a significant role to play here. Amid this growth, innovations in products and technologies are likely to accelerate. Developing business models that go beyond extending the current trajectories will become critical.

The Group is striving to increase added value by adding new business creation to efforts to strengthen existing businesses. During the fiscal year under review, we prepared a structure to move ahead with various measures, establishing a wide range of projects targeting sustained growth for the entire Group. We see both strengthening coordination within the Group and expanding alliances outside the Group as important elements of Group growth. Drawing on the Group's various resources, including products, information, human resources, and information technologies, we intend to maximize Group synergies.

To meet the needs of our customers in the areas of asset building, investment management, and asset management as a team of investment-advising professionals, we intend to further intensify an approach based on the "customer first" management philosophy, a philosophy in place since our founding. As we look forward to our 2023 centennial and beyond, we seek to achieve sustained growth based on the trust of our customers.

6. Outline of corporate governance structure

(1) Basic concepts regarding corporate governance

To remain a company that retains society's trust, we have positioned corporate governance as a key management issue. By securing the rights and equality of shareholders, making the right decisions in a timely manner, and putting together the structures for business execution and appropriate management supervision and monitoring, we will fulfill our fiduciary duties and accountability to shareholders and forge cordial relationships with stakeholders.

(2) Structure of business execution

Regarding the structure of business execution, the Board of Directors as the supreme decision-making organ on management makes decisions on items provided in laws and regulations and the articles of incorporation and maps out plans for the management strategy of the Group and supervises them. The President - CEO executes decisions of the Board of Directors and supervises overall management. The Board of Directors consists of nine directors (including four directors who are Audit & Supervisory Committee members), which enables it to make quick decisions.

We also have set up the Management Conference. To strengthen the business management of the Group by clarifying the roles of both bodies, the Board of Directors makes management decisions and supervises management while the Management Conference is in charge of business execution. The Management Conference, according to the basic management policies adopted by the Board of Directors, deliberates on the laying out of specific policies, business execution plans, and other important managerial subjects.

(3) Management monitoring structure

The structure of management monitoring is composed of four total Audit & Supervisory Committee Members, including one statutory auditor and three outside directors. They make up the Audit & Supervisory Committee and decide on auditing policies in accordance with laws and regulations and the company's articles of incorporation, based on the rules of Audit & Supervisory Committee Members. They will also work to formulate audit opinions for the Audit & Supervisory Committee Members. Other member obligations include attendance at meetings of the Board of Directors and other important meetings, interviews with directors (excluding directors who are Audit & Supervisory Committee Members), and the duty to review important approval documents in order to oversee decision-making by the Board of Directors and the state of business execution by directors. In addition, Audit & Supervisory Committee Members work with independent auditors and the divisions in charge of internal auditing to help ensure effective, appropriate audits. Okasan Securities Group Inc. has entered into agreements with these five Audit & Supervisory Committee Members to curtail their liabilities under Article 423, Paragraph 1 of the Companies Act, in accordance with Article 427, Paragraph 1 of the Act, to the minimum level required under laws and regulations.

(4) Internal auditing structure

As part of efforts to contribute to securing appropriate business operations such as reducing management risks and preventing wrongdoings, we have set up the Group Internal Audit Dept. and assigned nine staff to this department. The Group Internal Audit Dept. makes up an audit plan in each fiscal year, periodically implements on-the-spot audits based on these plans, and inspects documents when necessary. The results of the audits are presented regularly to the Board of Directors in the form of an audit report.

Operating and Financial Review

Okasan Securities Group Inc. and Consolidated Subsidiaries Years ended March 31, 2019

I . Financial conditions and operating results

Although Japan's economy continued to expand during the consolidated fiscal year under review, signs of slowing emerged in the second half. While conditions in the labor market continued to improve, concerns about a global economic slowdown and a series of natural disasters weighted heavily on consumer confidence. Personal consumption remained slow throughout the year, while year-on-year inflation in consumer prices continued to trend around 1%. US-China trade frictions and the effects of the slowing economy in China affected Japan's exports and production. Bright signs included the first increase in nationwide benchmark land values in 27 years, spurred by factors including demand for hotel construction in response to growing numbers of visitors to Japan.

With mixed domestic economic indicators and the economy continuing to lack strength, the Bank of Japan maintained its policy of monetary easing. In its July meeting, the BoJ's Monetary Policy Meeting chose to permit a broader range of fluctuations in the 10-year government bond yield, resulting in a brief rise in that yield to 0.155%; toward the end of the fiscal year, the bond yield once again fell into negative territory. Over the course of the fiscal year, it trended near the BoJ's monetary operation target of around 0%.

The 225-issue Nikkei Stock Average began the fiscal year trending around 22,000-23,000 yen, then climbed to 24,448 yen in early October, its highest mark in 27 years. This was in response to various factors, including the rising value of the US dollar against the yen (which reached ¥114/$1 due to positive US economic conditions in the summer and beyond) and policy expectations in the run-up to the election for the president of the Liberal Democratic Party of Japan. Equities markets in the US followed by those in other major economies dropped significantly from autumn, due largely to indications that the US Federal Reserve Board would continue to raise interest rates despite concerns about sustained US-China trade frictions and the potential for a slowing global economy. At one point toward the end of the calendar year, the Nikkei Stock Average dropped below 19,000. These swings in equities markets galvanized risk avoidance in foreign exchange markets, leading to rapid revaluation of the yen, which briefly reached levels of ¥104/$1 and ¥118/€1 at the start of the year. From that point until the end of the fiscal year, prompted by signs of a halt in interest rate increases in the US and anticipated progress on US-China trade negotiations, equities markets in major economies gradually stabilized and even regained earlier levels. This was despite festering concerns about Brexit and deepening confusion in advance of the end-of-March deadline for negotiations. The Nikkei Stock Average promptly recovered to the ¥20,000 range; at the end of the fiscal year, it had climbed to ¥21,205.81. Corrections returned the overvalued yen to roughly ¥110.5-110.9/$1 and ¥124.5/€1 by the end of the fiscal year.

Okasan Securities Co., Ltd., our core subsidiary, sought to deploy sales activities with strong roots in local communities, strengthening its sales capabilities through various initiatives, including opening new branches and relocating and renovating current locations. In response to market trends, it also updated how it provides investment information, including launching streaming video of investment seminars at its website. Okasan Online Securities Co., Ltd., the Group's specialist online brokerage, sought to grow its business foundations by improving customer services; it began providing AI-driven information services and distributing information on recommended issues to each customer based on trading data. Okasan Asset Management Co., Ltd. sought to improve investment performance by stressing economic analysis, corporate research, and other aspects; it also sought to strengthen engagement with and exercise of voting rights in companies in which it invests to help increase their corporate value. The company sought to increase assets under management by enhancing products that contribute to customer asset building, including establishing the world's first Yuan Sovereign Open based on the Bond Connect Scheme and proposing private placement investment trusts and discretionary investment contracts to institutional investors.

II. Financial standing

Total assets at the end of the consolidated fiscal year under review stood at ¥425,700 million, down ¥49,464 million from the end of the previous consolidated fiscal year. Total liabilities were ¥250,516 million, down ¥44,599 million from the end of the previous consolidated fiscal year, while net assets were down ¥4,865 million over the same period to ¥175,184 million.

1. Total assets

Total assets at the end of the consolidated fiscal year under review stood at ¥425,700 million, down ¥49,463 million from the end of the previous consolidated fiscal year. This was due mainly to decreases of ¥24,907 million in receivables on collateralized securities transactions, ¥19,048 million in receivables on margin transactions, and ¥18,523 million in trading assets, despite an increase of ¥11,379 million in cash and deposits.

2. Total liabilities

Total liabilities at the end of the consolidated fiscal year under review stood at ¥250,516 million, down ¥44,597 million from the end of the previous consolidated fiscal year. This was due mainly to decreases of ¥19,281 million in payables on collateralized securities transactions, ¥16,301 million in short-term borrowings, and ¥6,428 million in guarantee deposits received, despite an increase of ¥1,979 million in deposits received.

3. Net assets

Net assets at the end of the consolidated fiscal year under review stood at ¥175,184 million, down ¥4,865 million from the end of the previous consolidated fiscal year. This was due mainly to decreases of ¥4,058 million in retained earnings and ¥1,794 million in unrealized gain on available-for-sale securities, while non-controlling interests increased by ¥800 million.

III. Business results

Group operating revenues in the consolidated fiscal year under review were ¥67,876 million (82.9% of the figure for the previous year); net operating revenues were ¥66,804 million (82.7% of the figure for the previous year). SG&A expenses were ¥64,964 million (94.1% of the figure for the previous year); operating income was ¥1,840 million (15.7% of the figure for the previous year); and net income attributable to owners of the parent was ¥853 million (14.6% of the figure for the previous year).

1. Fees and commissions received

Fees and commissions received stood at ¥42,996 million (81.5% of the figure for the previous year). These can be broken down as follows:

(1) Brokerage commissions

Average daily trading volumes on the First Section of the Tokyo Stock Exchange (Japanese common shares) in the consolidated fiscal year under review were 1,849 million shares (80.1% of the figure for the previous year), while turnover was ¥3,051.2 billion (95.0% of the figure for the previous year). In this environment, equity brokerage commissions were ¥13,904 million (70.4% of the figure for the previous year). Bond brokerage commissions were ¥2 million (80.7% of the figure for the previous year). Other brokerage commissions amounted to ¥408 million (100.3% of the figure for the previous year). Total brokerage commissions were ¥14,315 million (71.0% of the figure for the previous year).

(2)Underwriting fees, selling concessions, and commissions on solicitation for sales of financial instruments to specified investors and others

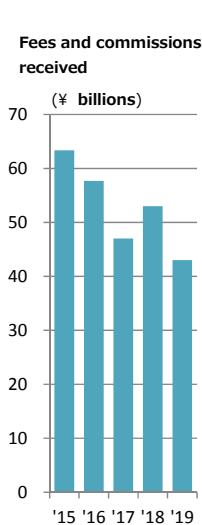

As for our equity underwriting efforts during the consolidated fiscal year under review, commissions increased thanks to factors including our role as lead underwriter and major transactions of newly listed stocks. Commissions fell year-on-year in bond underwriting efforts, although the value of underwriting increased due to our role as lead underwriter for several local government and corporate bond issuances and our role as underwriter for corporate bond issuances targeting individual investors.

The resulting commissions on equity were ¥568 million (110.9% of the figure for the previous year). Commissions on bonds totaled ¥109 million (93.3% of the figure for the previous year). Total underwriting fees, selling concessions, and commissions on solicitation for sales of financial instruments to specified investors and others, related to both equity and bond transactions, amounted to ¥677 million (107.7% of the figure for the previous year).

(3)Administrative charges on offering, selling, and solicitation for sales of financial instruments to specified investors, and other fees and commissions received

Income related to investment trusts accounted for the bulk of our income from administrative charges on offering, selling, and solicitation for sales of financial instruments to specified investors, and other fees and commissions received.

During the consolidated fiscal year under review, amid spreading uncertainty in markets through the second half of the fiscal year, sales of public offerings of investment trusts showed increases in sales of products resistant to market instability, including funds reflecting awareness of dividends, interest, and other parameters and SME equity funds promising relatively high growth. Nevertheless, the impact of market conditions could not be avoided entirely. The value of sales fell year-on-year, and administrative charges on offering, selling, and solicitation for sales of financial instruments to specified investors totaled ¥11,776 million (80.3% of the figure for the previous year). Other fees and commissions received, related mainly to investment trusts, amounted to ¥16,227 million (93.7% of the figure for the previous year).

2.Trading profits

Profits on equity trading are earned mainly from domestic over-the-counter trading of foreign equities, particularly US stocks. Profits on bond trading arise mainly in conjunction with income from the handling of foreign bonds for customers.

Due to unstable market conditions emerging in the autumn, domestic over-the-counter trading of foreign equities fell year-on-year during the consolidated fiscal year under review. However, the value of sales of foreign bonds increased, thanks in part to our handling of social bonds.

Consequently, total profits on equity trading were ¥12,880 million (69.5% of the figure for the previous year). Total bond trading profits were ¥9,479 million (117.3% of the figure for the previous year). Total trading profits, including loss from other trading of ¥53 million (compared to a loss of ¥66 million in the previous year), were ¥22,306 million (84.0% of the figure for the previous year).

3.Net financial income

Financial income amounted to ¥1,696 million (97.2% of the figure for the previous year). Financial expenses stood at ¥1,072 million (92.2%). Net financial income—i.e., the difference between financial income and financial expenses—was ¥624 million (107.1%).

4.Other operating income

Other operating income—i.e., operating income other than that related to the financial products transaction business and incidental operations—stood at ¥878 million (102.5% of the figure for the previous year).

5.Selling, general, and administrative expenses

Due to lower expenses, including personnel expenses and trading-related expenses, selling, general, and administrative expenses were ¥64,964 million (94.1% of the figure for the previous year).

6. Other income (expenses)

Other income amounted to ¥1,066 million.

7. Dividends

The company sees shareholder returns as a critical management issue. Its basic policy is to maintain a stable dividend while distributing profits in line with earnings.

Based on the policies above, the company set dividends for the fiscal year at ¥15 per share.

IV. Cash flows

Cash and cash equivalents at the end of the consolidated fiscal year was up ¥10,043 million from the end of the previous fiscal year to ¥64,183 million.

Presented below is information on each type of cash flow during the consolidated fiscal year under review and the underlying factors:

<Cash flows from operating activities>

Net cash provided by operating activities were ¥39,870 million. This is mainly attributable to the difference between cash inflows resulting from a change of ¥21,522 million decrease in trading assets and increase in trading liabilities and a change of ¥19,860 million decrease in receivables on margin transactions and increase payables on margin transactions and cash outflows from a change of ¥6,429 million decrease in guarantee deposits received.

<Cash flows from investing activities>

Net cash used in investment activities were ¥5,142 million, due mainly to the difference between cash outflows of ¥2,402 million payment for purchase of intangible assets, ¥1,000 million payment for short-term investments, ¥809 million payment for purchase of investment securities and cash inflows of ¥622 million proceeds from sale of investment securities.

<Cash flows from financing activities>

Net cash provided by financing activities were ¥24,880 million, due mainly to cash outflows resulting from decrease in short-term borrowings of ¥17,522 million, ¥4,912 million on dividends paid, and ¥2,260 million payments on long-term borrowings.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

Okasan Securities Group Inc. and Consolidated Subsidiaries — Year ended March 31, 2019

1. BASIS OF PRESENTING CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The accompanying consolidated financial statements include the accounts of Okasan Securities Group Inc. (the “Company”) and its subsidiaries.

The Company and its domestic subsidiaries maintain their books of account and prepare their financial statements in conformity with financial accounting standards of Japan, and its foreign subsidiary in conformity with those of the country of its domicile.

“Practical Solution on unification of Accounting Policies Applied to Foreign Subsidiaries for Consolidated Financial Statements” (ASBJ Practical Issues Task Force (PITF) No. 18, May 17, 2006) requires that for the preparation of consolidated financial statements, the accounting policies and procedures applied to a parent company and its subsidiaries for similar transactions and events under similar circumstances should be unified, in principle, and financial statements prepared by foreign subsidiaries in accordance with IFRSs or the generally accepted accounting principles in the United States (U.S. GAAP) tentatively may be used for the consolidation process, however, the items listed in the PITF should be adjusted in the consolidation process so that net income is accounted for in accordance with Japan GAAP unless they are not material. The Company made necessary modification to the consolidated financial statements according to the PITF.

The accompanying consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the provisions set forth in the Japanese Financial Instruments and Exchange Law and its related accounting regulations, and in conformity with accounting principles and practices generally accepted in Japan and applicable to Japanese securities companies.

In preparing the accompanying consolidated financial statements, certain reclassifications have been made in the financial statements issued domestically in Japan in order to present them in a form which is more familiar to readers outside Japan. In addition, the notes to the consolidated financial statements include information which is not required under accounting principles generally accepted in Japan but is presented herein as additional information.

2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

- a. Consolidation— The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company and its 12 subsidiaries. Two affiliates are accounted for by equity method at March 31, 2019. The “Accounting Standards for Consolidation” require the control or influence concept for the consolidation scope of subsidiaries and affiliates. Under the control or influence concept, a company in which the Company or its consolidated subsidiaries, directly or indirectly, are able to exercise control over operations is fully consolidated, and a company over which the Company and/or its consolidated subsidiaries have the ability to exercise significant influence is accounted for by the equity method. Investments in affiliates are accounted for by the equity method. All significant intercompany balances and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation.
- b. Cash and cash equivalents— For the purposes of the statement of cash flows, the Company considers all highly liquid investments with insignificant risk of changes in value which have maturities of generally three months or less when purchased to be cash equivalents.
- c. Trading assets and liabilities— Trading assets and liabilities, including securities and financial derivatives for trading purposes are recorded on a trade date basis at fair value. Revenues and expenses related to trading securities transactions are recorded on a trade date basis. Changes in the fair values are reflected in “net gain on trading” in the accompanying consolidated statement of income. Gains and losses arose from derivatives held or issued for trading purposes are also reported as “net gain on trading” in the accompanying consolidated statement of income, which includes realized gains and losses as well as changes in the fair values of such instruments. Securities owned for non-trading purposes, shown in the accompanying consolidated balance sheet as “Short-term investments” and “Investment securities” are discussed below.

- d. Securities—The Company examines the intent of holding securities for non-trading purposes, and classifies those securities as (a) debt securities intended to be held to maturity (“held-to-maturity debt securities”), (b) equity securities issued by an affiliated company and (c) all other securities not classified in any of the above categories (“available-for-sale securities”).
Held-to-maturity debt securities are stated at amortized cost. Available-for-sale securities with market value are stated at market, based on quoted market prices. Realized gains and losses on sale of such securities are computed using the gross-average cost. Unrealized gains or losses on such securities, net of related taxes, are recorded in other accumulated comprehensive income. Debt securities classified as “available-for-sale securities” for which fair value is not available are stated at the amortized cost. Equity securities classified as “available-for-sale securities” for which market value is not available are stated at the gross-average cost.
- e. Hedging transactions— The Company states derivative financial instruments at fair value and recognize changes in the fair value as gains or losses unless derivative financial instruments are used for hedging purposes. Valuation gains or losses on hedging instruments are mainly deferred as assets or liabilities until the gains or losses on underlying hedged instruments are realized. The Company and certain subsidiaries have entered into interest rate swap agreements for hedging interest rate exposures. The difference in amounts to be paid or received on interest rate swap agreements is recognized over the life of the agreement as an adjustment to interest expense.
- f. Collateralized securities transactions— Collateralized securities transactions consist of securities borrowed and loaned transactions. Securities borrowed transactions generally require the Company to provide the counterparty with collateral in the form of cash. And securities loaned transactions, the Company generally receives collateral in the form of cash. The Company monitors the market value of the securities borrowed or loaned and requires additional cash, as necessary, to ensure that such transactions are adequately collateralized. Under the “Uniform Accounting Standards of Securities Companies”, securities borrowed and loaned transactions are accounted for as financing transactions. Securities borrowed or loaned that are cash collateralized are recorded at the amount of cash collateral advanced or received. Gensaki transactions originate in the Japanese financial markets, and involve the selling (“Borrowings on Gensaki transactions”)/purchasing (“Loans on Gensaki transactions”) of commercial paper, certificates of deposit, Japanese government bonds and various other debt securities to/from an institution wishing to make a short-term investment, with the Company agreeing to repurchase/resell them from/to the institution on a specified date at a specified price. Under the “Accounting Standards for Financial Instruments”, Gensaki transactions are accounted for as financing transactions. Gensaki transactions are carried at their contractual amounts.
- g. Allowance for doubtful accounts— Allowance for doubtful accounts of the Company and its domestic consolidated subsidiaries are provided on the estimated historical deterioration rate for normal accounts, and based on specifically assessed amounts for doubtful accounts. An overseas consolidated subsidiary provides specifically assessed amount for doubtful accounts.

h. Property and equipment—Property and equipment are stated at cost. Depreciation of property and equipment of the Company and its domestic consolidated subsidiaries is computed substantially by the declining-balance method at rates based on the estimated useful lives of the assets, while the straight-line method is applied to buildings purchased in Japan on or after April 1, 1998 and to leasehold improvements and structures purchased in Japan on or after April 1, 2016. And in an overseas subsidiary, depreciation is computed by the straight-line method.

The range of useful lives is principally from 3 to 50 years for buildings and from 3 to 15 years for equipment.

i. Intangible assets—Intangible assets are carried at cost less amortization. Software for internal use is amortized under straight-line method based on internally estimated useful life (5 years). Amortization of other intangible assets is calculated by the straight-line method at rates based on the estimated useful lives of respective assets.

j. Retirement and severance benefits—Liabilities for retirement benefits are provided mainly at an amount calculated based on the retirement benefit obligation and the fair value of the pension plan assets at the balance sheet dates, as adjusted for the unrecognized actuarial gain or loss and unrecognized prior service benefit or cost. The retirement benefit obligation is attributed to each period by the benefit formula basis. Actuarial gain or loss is amortized in the subsequent year that it occurs by the straight-line method within the average remaining years of service of the employees of 5 years.

Certain domestic consolidated subsidiaries have unfunded defined benefit pension plans for directors and corporate auditors based on their internal rule. The provision for the plans has been made in the accompanying consolidated financial statements for vested benefits to which directors and corporate auditors are entitled if they were to retire and sever immediately at the balance sheet date.

k. Leases—Leased assets related to finance lease transactions without title transfer are depreciated on a straight-line basis, with the lease periods as their useful lives and no residual value.

l. Income taxes—Income taxes in Japan applicable to the Company and its domestic consolidated subsidiaries consist of corporate tax, inhabitant tax and business tax.

The “Accounting Standards for Income Taxes” require that deferred income taxes be accounted for under the asset and liability method. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the expected future tax consequences of events that have been included on the financial statements or tax return. Under this method, deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using enacted tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which those temporary difference are expected to be recovered or settled, and the effect on deferred tax assets and liabilities of a change in tax rates is recognized in income in the period that includes the enactment date.

The Company has filed consolidated tax returns in Japan.

m. Foreign currency transactions—Under the “Accounting Standards for Foreign Currency Transactions,” receivables and payables denominated in foreign currencies are translated into yen at the rate of exchange at the balance sheet dates and gains or losses resulting from the translation of foreign currencies are credited or charged to income. Assets and liabilities, and revenues and expenses of an overseas subsidiary are translated into yen at the rate of exchange at the balance sheet dates, a comprehensive adjustment resulting from translation is presented as “Foreign currency translation adjustments” in a component of net assets.

n. Asset retirement obligations— The Company recognizes an asset retirement obligation which is a statutory or similar obligation with regard to the removal of assets as a liability. An asset retirement obligation is recognized as a liability at the time that the asset is incurred by its acquisition, construction, development or ordinary use. When an asset retirement obligation is recognized as a liability, the asset retirement cost corresponding to it is included in the cost of the relevant asset by the same amount.

o. Accounting standards issued but not yet applied

1. Accounting Standards for Revenue Recognition etc.

- Accounting Standards for Revenue Recognition (ASBJ Statement No. 29, March 30, 2018)
- Implementation Guidance on Accounting Standard for Revenue Recognition (ASBJ Guidance No. 30, March 30, 2018)

(1) Overview

The International Accounting Standards Board (IASB) and US Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) co-developed a new comprehensive revenue recognition standard and published “Revenue from Contracts with Customers” in May 2014 (IFRS No. 15 in IASB, Topic 606 in FASB). Given that IFRS No. 15 will be applied from the fiscal year starting on or after January 1, 2018 and Topic 606 from the fiscal year starting after December 15, 2017, the Accounting Standards Board of Japan has developed comprehensive accounting standards for revenue recognition and published them together with implementation guidance.

The ASBJ basic policy in developing accounting standards for revenue recognition is thought to be setting accounting standards, with the incorporation of the basic principles of IFRS No. 15 as a starting point, from a standpoint of comparability between financial statements, which is one of the benefits of ensuring consistency with IFRS No. 15, and to be adding alternative accounting treatments without losing comparability if there is an item that we should take into account in practices, etc. that have been conducted in Japan.

(2) Planned applicable date

The accounting standards are to be applied from the beginning of the year ending March 31, 2022.

(3) Impact of application on these accounting standards

The Company is currently evaluating the impact of application of these accounting standards to the consolidated financial statements.

2. Revised Practical Solution on Unification of Accounting Policies Applied to Foreign Subsidiaries, etc. for Consolidated Financial Statements

- Revised Practical Solution on Unification of Accounting Policies Applied to Foreign Subsidiaries for Consolidated Financial Statements (ASBJ Practical Issues Task Force (PITF) No. 18, September 14, 2018)
- Revised Practical Solution on Unification of Accounting Policies Applied to Associates Accounted for Using the Equity Method (PITF No. 24, September 14, 2018)

(1) Overview

The ASBJ has examined the revision of “Practical Solution on unification of Accounting Policies Applied to Foreign Subsidiaries for Consolidated Financial Statements” (PITF No. 18) and “Practical Solution on unification of Accounting Policies Applied to Associates Accounted for Using the Equity Method” (PITF No. 24)

When foreign subsidiaries have chosen to recognize subsequent changes in the fair value of equity instruments in other comprehensive income in accordance with the practical solution on “Unification of Accounting Policies Applied to Foreign Subsidiaries for Consolidated Financial Statements”, the differences between acquisition costs and sales prices should be recognized in income when the investments are sold for consolidated financial statements.

When the Company should be required to record impairment losses, valuation differences should be recorded as loss for the year.

(2) Planned applicable date

The accounting standards are to be applied from the beginning of the year ending March 31, 2020.

(3) Impact of application on these accounting standards

The Company is currently evaluating the impact of application of these accounting standards to the consolidated financial statements.

- p. Reclassifications— Certain reclassifications have been made to the prior years' consolidated financial statements to conform to the presentation used in consolidated statements as of and for the year ended March 31, 2019.

3. BASIS OF FINANCIAL STATEMENT TRANSLATION

The translations of the yen amounts into U.S. dollars are included solely for the convenience of the reader, using the prevailing exchange rate at March 29, 2019, which was ¥110.99 to U.S. $1. The convenience translations should not be construed as representations that the yen amounts have been, could have been, or could in the future be, converted into U.S. dollars at this or any other rate of exchange.

The Company applies the “Partial Amendments to Accounting Standard for Tax Effect Accounting” (ASBJ Statement No. 28 issued on February 16, 2018, hereinafter the “Partial Amendments to Tax Effect Accounting Standard”) from the beginning of the year ended March 31, 2019. Deferred tax assets are shown in the segment of investments and other assets, and deferred tax liabilities are shown in the segment of non-current liabilities. As a result, “deferred tax assets” classified as “current assets” decreased by ¥1,036 million and “deferred tax assets” classified as “investments and other assets” decreased by ¥1,559 million, and “deferred tax liabilities” classified as “current liabilities” decreased by ¥24 million and “deferred tax liabilities” classified as “non-current liabilities” decreased by ¥2,571 million for the year ended March 31, 2018. The Company offset deferred tax assets and liabilities when the deferred tax assets liabilities are associated with the income taxes levied on the same taxable entity. As a result, total assets decreased by ¥2,596 million for the year ended March 31, 2018.

In addition, the Company added descriptions stated in the annotation No. 8 (excluding the total amount of valuation allowances) and No. 9 of the “Accounting Standard for Tax Effect Accounting" set forth in Paragraph 3 to 5 of the Partial Amendments to Tax Effect Accounting Standard as follows. The Company does not add the descriptions for the year ended March 31, 2018 in accordance with the transition provision set forth in Paragraph 7.

Tax loss carryforwards (the amounts shown in the table below represent the deferred tax assets on the tax loss carryforwards that obtained by multiplying by a statutory tax rate) will expire as follows:

The Company recognized deferred tax assets of ¥651 million ($5,865 thousand) for tax loss carryforwards (the amounts by multiplying by the statutory tax rate) of ¥3,240 million ($29,192 thousand). The deferred tax assets include the deferred tax assets of the Company of ¥189 million ($1,703 thousand) for tax loss carryforwards and the deferred tax assets of two subsidiaries in the Company's tax filing group of ¥462 million ($4,162 thousand) for tax loss carryforwards. The tax loss carryforwards of the Company have been incurred because the Company recorded the loss before income taxes for the years ended March 31, 2013 and 2019 in its non-consolidated financial statements. And the tax loss carryforwards of the two subsidiaries have been incurred because they recorded the loss before income taxes for the year ended March 31, 2019 in their non-consolidated financial statements. The amount of the deferred tax assets for the tax loss carryforwards considered realizable by taking into consideration of the estimated taxable income based on future Group profitability.

A reconciliation of the statutory tax rate and the effective tax rate as a percentage of income before income taxes and non-controlling interests for the years ended March 31, 2019 and 2018 is as follows:

Defined contribution plans

The amount to be paid by the Company and consolidated subsidiaries to the defined contribution plans is ¥207 million ($1,865 thousand) and ¥202 million for the years ended March 31, 2019 and 2018, respectively.

Retirement benefits for directors and corporate auditors

Directors and corporate auditors are not covered by the plans described above. For such persons, certain consolidated subsidiaries have unfunded defined benefit pension plans. Under the plans, directors and corporate auditors are entitled to lump-sum payments based on the current rate of pay and length of service when they leave the Company.

At March 31, 2019 and 2018, the subsidiaries provide for the amount of ¥97 million ($874 thousand) and ¥147 million, respectively.

13. ASSET RETIREMENT OBLIGATIONS

The asset retirement obligation is based on estimated future restoration liabilities related to leasehold contracts of branch offices and so on.

The obligation is calculated based on the estimated period of use of 9 to 58 years and discounted rate of 0.00% to 2.33%.

The following table provides the Company's total asset retirement obligation for the years ended March 31, 2019 and 2018:

14. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS TRANSACTIONS RESERVE

The Financial Instruments and Exchange Law of Japan requires a securities company to set aside a reserve in proportion to its securities and other related trading or derivative transactions to cover possible customer losses incurred by default of the securities company on securities or derivative transactions.

Financial instruments transactions reserve is calculated based on Article 46-5, Paragraph 1 of the Financial Instruments and Exchange Law.

15. SHAREHOLDERS' EQUITY

The Companies Act provides that an amount equal to 10% of distributions from retained earnings paid by the Company and its Japanese subsidiaries be appropriated as a legal reserve (a component of retained earnings) or as additional paid-in capital (a component of capital surplus). No further appropriations are required when the total amount of the additional paid-in capital and the legal reserve equals 25% of their respective stated capital. The Companies Act also provides that additional paid-in capital and legal reserve are available for appropriations by the resolution of the shareholders. Balances of the legal reserve are included in retained earnings in the accompanying consolidated balance sheet.

Cash dividends and appropriations to the legal reserve charged to retained earnings for the years ended March 31, 2019 and 2018 represent dividends paid out during those years and the related appropriations to the legal reserve. The amount available for dividends is based on the amount recorded in the Company's non-consolidated books of account in accordance with the Companies Act.

The fair value of the 4th stock options was estimated using the Black-Scholes option-valuation model with the following assumptions:

Expected volatility *1	35.836%
Expected remaining outstanding period *2	5.4 years
Expected dividend *3	¥25 ($0.23) per share
Risk-free interest rate *4	-0.099%

*1 Expected volatility is based on the actual stock prices traded from February 17, 2013 to July 13, 2018.

*2 Expected remaining outstanding period is based on the actual service period of the Company's directors, directors, executive officers and corporate auditors of its subsidiary and their retired age.

*3 Expected dividend is based on the dividends applicable for the year ended March 31, 2018.

*4 Risk-free interest rate is the government bond yield for a term consistent with the expected remaining outstanding period.

The number of rights to vest in the future periods is determined based on the actual forfeited number of the stock options because it is difficult to estimate forfeiture in the future.

17. SURPLUS ON LAND REVALUATION

At March 31, 2002, a consolidated subsidiary revaluated its own land for business activities in accordance with the "Law Concerning Land Revaluation" (the "Law") effective March 31, 1998. The net unrealized gain, net of related taxes and non-controlling interests, are reported as "Surplus on land revaluation" in a component of net assets and the related deferred tax liabilities are included in non-current deferred income taxes.

Fair values of the land are determined based on the values specified in Article 2-1, 2-3 and 2-5 of the Enforcement Ordinance of the Law concerning Land Revaluation.

Because the fair value of the land at both March 31, 2019 and 2018 is over the book value of the land after the revaluation, the difference between the fair value and the book value of the land is not disclosed.

25. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

Conditions of Financial instruments

(1) Management policy

The Company and subsidiaries (the “Group”) primary engages in financial instruments trading business, which include trading in securities, brokerage for trading in securities, underwriting and distribution of securities, public offering and secondary distribution of securities and private offering of securities. For the above mentioned business, the Group uses its own resources and finances funds through bank loans and call money etc.

The Group makes short-term deposits and loans for margin transaction, and operates securities trading for the Group own accounts for fund management purposes.

Regarding the trading business, the Group works to do brokerage for trading in securities smoothly and contribute to a sound market system in an Exchange transaction, and works to make fair prices and transact smoothly in a Non-Exchange transaction and to reduce losses from deals etc.

Regarding the derivative financial instruments, the Group uses interest rate swaps to hedge future fluctuations of interest rates and does not enter into interest rate swaps for trading or speculative purposes.

(2) Financial instruments and risks

The main financial assets of the Group consist of cash on hand and in banks, cash segregated as deposits for customers and others, trading assets, receivables on margin transactions, receivables on collateralized securities transactions and investment securities.

The cash in banks are exposed to credit risk of banks. Most of cash segregated as deposits for customers and others are cash segregated as deposits for customers, and are segregated from the Group own assets and trusted to banks in accordance with the Japanese Financial Instruments and Exchange Law. The trusted funds are secured by the Trust Act.

Trading position is made for meeting customers' various needs, complementing the market and hedging the position. Such trading involves market and counterparty risks which possibly effect on the financial position of the Group. Market risk is the risk arising from future changes in the market values of securities, interest rates and foreign currency exchange rates, and counterparty risk is the risk arising from default by the counterparty.

Receivables on margin transactions consist of loans receivable from customers and cash deposits as collateral for securities borrowed from securities finance companies, and are exposed to credit risk of counterparties. Receivables on collateralized securities transactions consist of cash collateral for securities borrowed, and are exposed to counterparty risk. Investment securities are exposed to issuer's credit risk and market risk.

The main financial liabilities of the Group consist of trading liabilities, payables on margin transactions, payables on collateralized securities transactions, deposits received, guarantee deposits received and borrowings.

Payables on margin transactions consist of borrowings from securities finance companies and proceeds from securities sold for customers' accounts. Payables on collateralized securities transactions consist of cash collateral for securities loaned and are received as collateral for a loan of bonds such as government bonds. Deposit received is temporary unsettled amount arising from transaction with customers. Guarantee deposits received is deposit received for margin transactions from customers. Part of financial liabilities, such as borrowings, are exposed to liquidity risk that is the risk for the Group not to make a payment on due date. The borrowings with variable interest rate are exposed to interest rate fluctuation risk.

The Group uses derivative financial instruments as part of asset and liability management. For trading purpose, the Group uses derivatives listed on exchange such as stock index futures and bond futures, as well as over-the-counter derivatives such as forward foreign exchange transactions. For non-trading purpose, the Group uses interest rate swaps. Interest rate swaps are used to hedge future cash flow fluctuation arising from interest rate fluctuations on the borrowings. The difference in amounts to be paid or received on interest rate swaps is recognized over the life of the agreements as an adjustment to interest expense, if the agreements meet certain hedging criteria ("exceptional accounting method"). Interest rate swaps are exposed to interest rate fluctuation risk, however, counterparties are limited to the lender.

(3) Financial instruments risk management

The Group maintains appropriate risk management and control measures in order to maintain the Group financial stability and to effectively use the Group business resources.

The Company controls its purchases, sales and market risk of investment securities in accordance with investment securities management rules.

Okasan Securities Co., Ltd., our core firm, controls market fluctuation risk principally through position limits, and counterparty risk principally through credit limits by each financial instrument. Primarily, trading department checks the position and the gain or loss. Secondarily, risk control department ascertains the position and the assessed risks reported by the trading department, and supervise the position.

The loss on proprietary trading position estimated by VaR is ¥171 million ($1,541 thousand) calculated using historical method (holding period: one day, confidence interval: 99%, observation period: 1,250 days) at March 31, 2019. The Company ascertained the reliability and validity of the model daily by performing a comparison back-test of VaR and actual profit and loss.

In order to reduce the risks, receivables on margin transactions are controlled by daily credit management through setup of inception criteria for margin transactions and limits for open interest, deposits reception when market fluctuates in accordance with customer management rules. Liquidity risk is controlled based on fund management plan in accordance with liquidity risk management rules. The Group also makes contingency plan to mitigate liquidity crisis.

Securities subsidiaries other than Okasan Securities Co., Ltd. also maintain appropriate risk controls.

(4) Supplemental explanation regarding fair value of financial instruments

The contract amount of the derivative transactions does not represent the risk of the derivative transactions.

Fair value of financial instruments

The carrying amounts on the consolidated balance sheet, fair value, and differences at March 31, 2019 and 2018 are as follows.

(1) Fair value measurement of financial instruments

Assets:

Cash on hand and in banks, Cash segregated as deposits for customers and others, Receivables arising from unsettled trades, Receivables on margin transactions, Receivables on collateralized securities transactions and Short-term guarantee deposits

The carrying amount approximates fair value because of the short maturity of these instruments.

Trading assets, Short-term investments and Investment securities

The carrying amount approximates fair value because the carrying amount of equity securities, debt securities and beneficiary certificates is calculated by quoted market price. The carrying amount of certificate of deposit approximates fair value because of the short maturity of these instruments. Please see note 4. TRADING ASSETS AND LIABILITIES and see note 7. SECURITIES FOR NON-TRADING PURPOSES for information by category.

Liabilities:

Trading liabilities

The carrying amount approximates fair value because the carrying amount of equity securities, debt securities and beneficiary certificates is calculated by quoted market price. Please see note 4. TRADING ASSETS AND LIABILITIES for information by category.

Payables on margin transactions, Payables on collateralized securities transactions, Deposits received, Guarantee deposits received and Short-term borrowings

The carrying amount approximates fair value because of the short maturity of these instruments. Fair value of current installments of long-term borrowings included in short-term borrowings is calculated as below. (See Long-term borrowings.)

Long-term borrowings

The carrying amount of long-term borrowings with variable interest rate approximates fair value because the fair value is reflected the fluctuation of interest market in a short period and credit status of the Company does not change so much from when the Company borrowed. Fair value of long-term borrowings with fixed interest rate is based on the present value of future cash flows of interest and principal payments discounted using the current borrowing rate for similar borrowings of a comparable maturity.

Fair value of certain long-term borrowings with interest rate swaps for which exceptional accounting method applied are based on the present value of future cash flows of interest and principal payments discounted using the current borrowing rate for similar borrowings of a comparable maturity.

		Millions of yen
		2019	2018
Interest rate swaps:
Variable rate received for fixed rate	Long-term borrowings	¥ 6,200	¥ 6,200	$ 55,861

*1 Hedge accounting method is the exceptional accounting method which is the difference in amounts to be paid or received on interest rate swaps being recognized over the life of the agreements as an adjustment to interest expense.

*2 Fair value of derivative financial instrument is included in fair value of the long-term borrowings as hedged items for certain long-term borrowings for which interest rate swap contracts are used to hedge the interest rate fluctuations.

27. INVESTMENT AND RENTAL PROPERTY

The Company and certain consolidated subsidiaries own their rental office buildings, land etc. (hereafter “rental property”) in Tokyo and other areas. Income from the rental property is ¥49 million ($441 thousand) and ¥32 million for the years ended March 31, 2019 and 2018, respectively.

The amounts recognized in the consolidated balance sheet and fair values related to the rental property are as follows:

	Millions of yen			Thousands of U.S. dollars
Consolidated balance sheet amount:
Balance at beginning of the year	¥ 5,435	¥ 5,421	$ 48,968

Fair value
	¥ 8,341	¥ 6,303	$ 75,151

The above fair value is based on real-estate appraisals, and is estimated by the Company.

28. SEGMENT INFORMATION

The reported segments of the Company are the business units for which the Company is able to obtain respective financial information separately in order for the Board of Directors to conduct periodic investigation to determine distribution of management resources and evaluate their business results.

“Securities business”, “Asset management business” and “Support business” are the Company’s reported segments.

“Securities business” renders trading and brokerage for trading in securities, underwriting and distribution of securities, public offering and secondary distribution of securities and private offering of securities. “Asset management business” renders investment management and investment advisory. “Support business” renders information processing services, administrative support services, custodianship and temping services, etc.

Segment operating revenues, income, assets, liabilities and others are calculated by accounting methods similar to those employed to prepare the accompanying consolidated financial statements.

Segment income is calculated based on operating income in the consolidated statement of income.

Intersegment revenues and transfer are based on arms-length transactions.

Independent Auditor's Report

To the Board of Directors of Okasan Securities Group Inc.

We have audited the accompanying consolidated financial statements of Okasan Securities Group Inc. and its consolidated subsidiaries, which comprise the consolidated balance sheet as of March 31, 2019, and the consolidated statement of income, comprehensive income (loss), changes in net assets and cash flows for the year then ended, and a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

Management's Responsibility for the Consolidated Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these consolidated financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in Japan and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these consolidated financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in Japan. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the consolidated financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the consolidated financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the consolidated financial position of Okasan Securities Group Inc. and its consolidated subsidiaries as of March 31, 2019, and their financial performance and cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in Japan.

Convenience Translation

Our audit also comprehended the translation of Japanese yen amounts into United States dollar amounts and, in our opinion, such translation has been made in conformity with the basis stated in Note 3 to the consolidated financial statements. Such United States dollar amounts are presented solely for the convenience of readers outside Japan.
